SIG Endoscopy writeup;

Endoscopy is a revolutionary modality for both diagnosis and treatment in the infertile population. It is a boon for clinicians as it not only corrects issues but also aids in prognosis.

The Special Interest Group (SIG) in Endoscopy is a focused and targeted group centered on endoscopic practices in the infertile population. Our SIG boasts a dynamic and motivated team mentored by Dr. (Prof.) Kuldeep Jain, with Dr. Parul Kotadwala as Convenor and Dr. Desh Deepak and Dr. Maansi Jain as Co-convenors, all of whom share a common passion and love for endoscopic surgery.

Our aims are:

1. To promote and popularize the correct use of endoscopy among general gynecologists, with an emphasis on fertility-enhancing surgery in the infertile population.
2. To sensitize the public to good practice guidelines in endoscopy. We aim to penetrate deep at the grassroots level and work towards the standardization of endoscopy practices in infertility.
3. To ensure pan-India involvement through various online and offline academic activities, such as webinars, CMEs, and live operative workshops.
4. To bring together the top endoscopy surgeons from across the country and abroad on a common platform by organizing comprehensive conferences or summits.

5. To establish strong international collaborations with the aim of promoting IFS SIG Endoscopy on the international platform and gaining recognition for the brilliant work that Indian endoscopy surgeons are doing.

6. To start a teaching program for young and budding endoscopy surgeons, focusing on both the theoretical and technical aspects of basic and advanced endoscopy skills.

We invite anyone who shares a passion and love for endoscopic surgery to become active members of our SIG.
